

Vision Statement

Media Mission:

"To serve front-line Christian missionaries in Southeast Asia by providing professional media services (photo and video projects) free of charge, thus enabling them to concentrate full energy on their life-changing ministries."

Direct Ministry Mission:

"To apply and demonstrate God's Love to Thai and Tribal people through the Next Step house and Camp 99 ministry center by building relationships and helping with educational, spiritual, recreational, and practical needs."

Thank you for prayers!

I first went to Chiang Mai, Thailand to do video projects for missions in 2003, '05, '07, and '09.

Then I moved here in Nov. 2009 to be the Media Director of a mission group. After two years I went 'freelance' to help more local missionaries I'd met!

I've regularly done portraits for missionaries and churches to use on their web pages and newsletters, as well as video projects for them to tell supporters about their ministry and gospel vision in Thailand.

In the past I worked for newspapers in the USA, and was the Stills Photographer for the movie "End of the Spear". I also produced a documentary video about a Holocaust survivor called "Journey to Remember." Samples of my work are on the dropdown menu at:

Bob Bowling has been full-time in Thailand since 2009

The Lord has led me to three areas of Christian service: 1) to do media projects for missionaries, and sometimes Thai churches through DigitalMission Media, providing professional photos and videos for websites, Facebook, brochures, and newsletters. And because DM is 100% supported by the generosity of donors in the U.S., I offer this service for free! (My Thailand visa doesn't allow me to work for pay.)

2) In 2016 some tribal pastors I knew had sons who were going to attend University and needed a wholesome place to stay closer to campus. So I started the Next Step student house. I've had up to five Christian students at a time live with me, as I provide room and board... and love. The tuition has been up to them, but occasionally I have helped out with that, too. We have regular Bible studies and 'do life' together as a small Christian community. I have helped 28 students (so far!) over the years.

3) Then my landlord put that house up for sale and God led me to rent an amazing two-acre property with a fishing pond! We've since made picnic, games, and badminton areas, a campfire ring, and a charming shelter by the pond with a water cooler, fishing supplies, and a 300 watt, 4-channel sound system. This house is smaller so I've had just two or three students lately for the Next Step house. But oh my, the Lord has blessed Camp 99 with hosting many Thai churches, children's homes, Bible schools, and families for fellowship, feasting, meetings, and worship!
